HMG Safety Checklist

Key points for completing the Checklist

1. The checklist form is to be completed by the home visitor based on a conversation between this individual and the parent/caregiver.
2. How the question is asked to the parent/caregiver is based on the relationship between the professional and the parent/caregiver and the unique family living situation. The professional should use their best clinical judgment on how the questions are asked.
3. The professional completing the checklist should consider the developmental status and ages of the children in the household when discussing each question. Some questions and recommendations may not apply to the unique circumstances of a particular child and family.
4. The tips sheet should be given to each family prior to the checklist questions being asked. The professional may choose to refer to the tips sheet as questions are asked and items are discussed.
